Philip Barry wrote "The Philadelphia Story" for Katherine Hepburn, who made the character of Tracy Lord one of her signature roles. Somehow, Hepburn had no trouble playing a spoiled, arrogant socialite. The 1938 Broadway role revived her career after a string of Hollywood flops earned her the description, "box office poison."

Clackamas Repertory Theatre (http://clackamasrep.org/) opens its 10th anniversary Friday, June 27 with Barry's romantic comedy about class and marriage. Wealthy socialite Tracy Lord is on edge on the eve of her second wedding as she juggles her fiancé, her ex-husband and a handsome reporter all vying for her attention.

Hillarie Putnam (http://www.imdb.com/name/nm3330819/), originally from Wasilla, Alaska, plays Tracy. Putnam has appeared in films with John Cusack, Nicholas Cage, Ted Danson and Drew Barrymore. She’s currently appearing in "The Hunt" on the History Channel, a show about hunters on Kodiak Island.

"The Philadelphia Story" runs Thursdays through Saturdays through July 20.

19600 Molalla Ave., Oregon City

clackamasrep.org 503-594-6047
‘The Philadelphia Story’ comes to Clackamas Repertory Theatre...

http://www.oregonlive.com/performance/index.ssf/2014/06/the_...
Valsetz, Ore.: Town is gone, not forgotten

Killer whales' lives demystified after decade of...

State failed to fix ‘high risk’ software problem

‘The Philadelphia Story’ comes to Clackamas Repertory Theatre...

Best of Oregon
‘The Philadelphia Story’ comes to Clackamas Repertory Theatre... http://www.oregonlive.com/performance/index.ssf/2014/06/the_...